Director's Column: New Year, New Anniversaries

January 2026 brings with it much cause for celebration. The 9th annual artPHL Evening will be on Friday, January 23 at 6:30 p.m. artPHL has been an incredibly fun and meaningful way for us to fulfill our mission. Many of the featured artists will be demonstrating their work, in addition to exhibiting it. Tickets are on sale now, with savings if you buy them in advance. Your ticket includes live music, hors d'oeuvres, wine, and of course interactions with local artists. The popular silent auction is back again, along with the 50/50 raffle, and even some giveaways if you get here early. I am proud that the Palm Harbor Library (PHL) has taken the mantle of putting an ongoing spotlight on the arts and creativity for our community. Not only is the experience a cheap date night — where else can you get all that for less than $50? — it is a great way to come together as a community.
