

A Monthly Column: October

It is already October and scary how quickly this year has flown by! We will be celebrating the scary season with many programs here at the library, but also out in the community. Join us at Stilt House Brewery on Thursday, October 8 at 6pm for Ales and Tales where we will be discussing Something Wicked This Way Comes. And you won't want to miss the Annual Halloween Carnival at White Chapel on Friday, October 30 from 6-9 pm. Need a costume for your child? Stop by our Costume Swap in the Children's Room. It's a great way to save money, find something new for you, and give costumes a second life instead of sending them to the landfill.

Last, but certainly not least, Palm Harbor Museum will host their monthly talk on Wednesday, October 7 at 6:30 pm with our very own Erica Lynford from Palm Harbor Parks and Recreation! She will be discussing the Palm Harbor Community Services Agency and exciting plans for the future.

We hope to see you at these events throughout October and, of course, every day at the library!
